

2004 Eric Pas Dissertation Prize in Travel Behavior Research

The International Association for Travel Behavior Research (IATBR) invites submissions for the 2004 Eric Pas Dissertation Prize. This dissertation prize recognizes the best doctoral dissertation in the area of travel behavior research accepted between January 1, 2004 and December 31, 2004.

Supervisors wishing to submit 2004 dissertations for consideration should provide the Chair of the Selection Panel, Dr. Tony Richardson (see address below), with the following by May 1, 2005:

- Six copies of the dissertation
- Six copies of an extended abstract (in English) between 3 to 5 pages in length, not bound with the rest of the thesis, and
- A nomination letter supporting the submission and stating the supervisor's assessment of why the thesis is worthy of the award (in English).

Any questions or requests for further information may be directed to either Dr. Tony Richardson (tony\_richardson@tuti.com.au) or to the Secretary of the IATBR, Prof. Ram M. Pendyala (pendyala@eng.usf.edu).

Please send all submissions to:
